Education Is Defense

In this year, 1941, when the aggressor nations have swallowed up the weaker states and totalitarianism seems to have triumphed over democracy, we, the people of the United States, have become increasingly aware of the danger threatening our land—the imperiling of our freedom by fifth columnists from within and by dictators from without.

Educating the people to distinguish truth from propaganda is the best way to preserve the ideals of our democracy, for where the masses are educated, there exists no totalitarian government. We believe, therefore, that the training of our citizens, by way of education, is just as important as the training of a peacetime army!

Dedication

Comradeship, inspiration, and warm encouragement are what she gave us.

A wise counselor, she has made for herself a place in our hearts and memories.

As a token of our sincere appreciation, we, the graduating class of '41, dedicate our "Tiger Lily" to Miss Flesher, a distinctive personality and an outstanding teacher.

DEAR SENIORS:

During the present national emergency practically our whole nation is devoting its resources to the problem of national defense, a defense against those forces that would destroy our way of life and our form of government. One of the best safeguards against these outside forces is education, for education is NATIONAL DEFENSE.

Many of you will undoubtedly be called to serve in the armed forces of our country in the near future. That kind of service has a certain glamor attached to it, but each of you may serve your country well by being a loyal citizen and by doing the task that falls to your lot in such a manner that you can be proud of what you have accomplished.

We have tried, in so far as possible, through the medium of our school curriculum and the various activities to prepare you to lead a useful and happy life.

Please remember that our interest in your welfare is not ended because you have completed your high school education, and we shall be always ready to aid you in whatever manner we can.

Sincerely,

FRED N. HARDY.

Moderato

Al- though Yale has al- ways Fav- ored

The vi- o- let's dark blue,

And the gen- tle sons of Har- vard

To the crim- son rose are true,

We will own the li- ly slen- der,

Nor hon- or shall it lack,

While Port High stands de- fen- der of the Or- ange and the Black.

II

Through the Four- long years of high school
Mid the scenes we know so well,
As the mystic charm to knowledge
We vainly seek to spell,
Or we win athletic victories
On the Football field and track,
Still we work for dear old Port High and
The Orange and the Black.

III.

When the cares of life o'ertake us
Mingling fast our locks with gray,
Should our dearest hopes betray us
False Fortune fall our way;
Still we banish care and sadness
As we turn our memories back
And recall those days of gladness
'Neath the Orange and the Black.

Senior History

Sunset on a windswept seashore. An alumnus of the class of '41, wandering aimlessly along the beach, found himself reminiscing . . . life at P. A. H. S. . . . work . . . play . . . friendships . . . all over ten, yes, ten years ago this very day . . . A deep sigh escaped him.

Then, as if to end his reverie, a foaming wave broke at the alumnus' feet and left in its wake—a bottle!

Stooping and picking it up, the alumnus, full of curiosity, uncorked the mysterious flask. Immediately the air was suffused with a gigantic dark cloud from which an impish genie stepped forth. "Ah," said he, "You have released me from my long imprisonment. Make a wish, only one however, and it shall be granted."

One wish—anything he desired. At last—"May I relive those happy days of Port High."

Instantly the ocean, the sun, the clouds faded away and . . . hi! doesn't it feel swell to be back . . . how many subjects are you taking . . . watch out for the seniors . . . hey! you lost your shoe . . . Mr. Roderick organizes band . . . end of hazing . . . football fellows beat Smethport 27-12 . . . Christmas parties and ten-cent gifts . . . how'd you make out on the exams . . . c'mon and stay for basketball practice . . . spring fever . . . Dick O'Day plays at the hop . . . finished your flower collection yet . . . the year's gone already . . . glad I'm not a soph . . . Bugle comes out . . . hockey team defeats seniors amid snow flurries . . . those locker combinations . . . typing to music . . . another test tube broken . . . ordered your class ring . . . dues contest closes . . . phosphorescent wand drill at gym show . . . square-dancing at class party . . . quiz program . . . coming to the Prom . . . just one more year . . . a senior! . . . Dek Kanally elected president third term . . . hazing banned . . . Sleepy Redington suffers a broken collarbone . . . see you at the Armistice dance . . . What a Life . . . wasn't the football banquet loads of fun . . . hope my picture turns out good . . . Miss Snyder organizes typing class for academic students . . . how much are name cards . . . Tiger Lily makes appearance . . . poetry booklets . . . class night . . . Commencement . . . 'bye . . .

It was dusk. The alumnus, arousing from his dream, looked out over the sea until his eyes rested upon a bottle tossing about among the waves.

Then, with the happy memories still in his mind, he turned and walked away—into the workaday world that was now his.

Faculty Adviser

Mr. Hardy

The Activity Council, composed of three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores elected by the student body, is an organization which takes care of the financial affairs of the school clubs and classes.

The Council, which was originated at the beginning of the school year, has proved itself successful in fulfilling the purpose for which it was organized. In former years, the clubs' and classes' financial accounts deposited separately in the bank, caused unnecessary complications. However, this difficulty has been overcome by having all school clubs, classes, and organizations, thirteen in number, place their accounts in the hands of the Student Activity Council, which in turn deposits under one account.

The basis on which the Council works is that whenever any organization wishes to pay a bill its treasurer first makes out a form to the Council stating the amount and to whom it is to be paid. After the Council has voted on the bill, the Council treasurer makes out a check for the amount.

This procedure has been so successful this year that we feel sure it will be used in future years.

Orchestra

Director

Mr. Donald Roderick

Squeaks and raucous sounds are heard in the auditorium every Tuesday at four o'clock. It is orchestra practice and the violins are tuning up, but before long the discord ceases. Mr. Roderick has tapped his baton and real practice is about to begin.

The orchestra has proved to be one of the necessary and worthwhile organizations of our school. It has been called upon to furnish music for many of the extra curricular activities—the Community Fair entertainments, the school productions, "Paints and Patches," "What a Life," and the Commencement exercises. The weekly chapel programs have also been made more entertaining by the orchestra's contribution.

Under the able direction of Mr. Roderick this group hopes to continue to be useful to P. A. H. S.

Miss Rumsey

This year's Library Club was formed mainly for two purposes: first, to give the members an opportunity to determine if they would care for library work as a vocation; second, to develop a love for books. There are not only school, city, and hospital libraries, but in the country districts and the sparsely settled communities, the traveling library serves the needs of readers.

Many people think that to stamp out-going books and keep track of those that are overdue are the librarian's only duties. However, there are many additional phases of library work with which very few people are familiar. With Miss Rumsey's aid the club members learned how to perform various library duties as well, discussed books, read plays, and told stories.

We wish to thank our adviser, Miss Rumsey, for the splendid cooperation and kind assistance she has given us during the past year. We feel sure that the Library Clubs of the future will be as successful as ours has been.

Press Club

A Nose for News! Speed! Accuracy! Brevity! These are the commandments of the busy-body reporter of the Press Club.

Under the direction of Miss Snyder, the twenty two members met semi-monthly to receive their assignments which might have been a news item, a news story, a human interest story, an editorial, an interview, or a special column. After trailing news and scandal for a week, writing, rewriting, reading, and proof reading, the journalists published their best efforts in the High School Bugle. In each edition, the Club undertook to give to the reader, first—entertainment through Dottings, a closely-followed gossip column, Classroom Chatter, an amusing view of the students in classes, and Snookums, a newsy letter written in mountain dialect; second—information and education through At the Crossroads, a review of worldly facts, and weekly editorials; third—current news of the activities of the faculty, students, and alumni. As steps toward improvement, cartoons which pictured typical scenes from school life were introduced, and papers were exchanged with surrounding schools.

This year the Club organized a merit system based on attendance, ability, and accuracy of each member. At the end of the year, each senior member having the required number of points received a pin as a reward for his time and efforts.

Also, for the first time, the Press Club entered the Annual High School Publication Contest sponsored by Saint Bonaventure's College. On May 10, Miss Snyder, Mary Jean Licastro, Betty McMahon, Joan Becker, Jeanette Nelson, Margaret Olson, Jane Coneys, and Phyllis Lyons attended the High School Press Conference held in connection with the contest. At the conference problems confronting high school students in their publications were discussed and plans were outlined for better papers and magazines. Several noted newspaper men and columnists spoke at this conference.

The meeting will please come to order. Where's Sam Gullone? . . . He'll probably come swaggering in soon. The F. F. A., which numbers twenty three, does not confine its activities to semi-monthly meetings alone. Field trips, which are taken to make a more thorough study of subjects connected with agriculture, are an important part of the club program. During the present school year, the F. F. A. visited the Ulysses cattle judging contest, the Millport livestock judging contest, the Simpson Dairy Farm, Kirkman's Dairy Farm, and Phalin's Beef Cattle Farm.

During the summer months every club member takes part in a project of his own. He can cultivate a vegetable garden or a single crop or raise a flock of poultry or some farm animal. These projects make each boy put his theoretical knowledge into practical use.

The S. P. Q. R., meaning the power of the Senate and the Roman people, is one of the most active organizations in the Port Allegany High School. The club members at semi-monthly meetings strived for a better understanding of the Latin language and Roman customs.

Among the social functions of the club were a Saturnalian party, a celebration in ancient Rome which corresponds to our Christmas, and a reception and initiation for the new club members.

During the year the club held frequent candy sales, the profits of which were used for various club activities, but especially for paying the fees in joining the Junior Classical League, a national organization sponsored by the American Classical League of New York University.

Soap carving and the publishing of a Latin paper complete with illustrations were popular with the club members. A dinner held in honor of the departing senior club members concluded the year's activities.

The Port Steno Club, composed of twenty-eight members, met semi-monthly under the supervision of Miss Snyder. The club discussed the different vocations in the business world and the possibilities of obtaining various positions. Several of the members printed programs for the many school activities, such as What a Life, the senior class play, The Belle of Bagdad, the high school operetta, the band concert, and the annual Gym Show. Others supplied the commercial room bulletin board with cartoons and information of interest to commercial students. The International Artistic Typewriting Contest attracted a large number of the club group. The Steno Club members who entered into competition received certificates for their artistic designs—designs of anything from Don Ameche to little old-fashioned sun-bonneted girls watering their flower gardens. A party held in the high school gymnasium climaxed the year's events.

There is but one purpose of the Port Allegany Hi-Y Club; that is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Beginning the year with a BANG, activity followed activity in a steady flow of fun and service. The club enjoyed educational talks and movies by guest speakers, discussions by Hi-Y members, and the Bible study, Attitudes of Youth. Representatives, including the club officers and Senator Harry Kelsey, helped organize the McKean County Hi-Tri-Y Senate at Bradford. A party with the Tri-Hi-Y was held at the Ceres Roller Skating Rink and the Smethport Hi-Y and Girls' Reserves were guests at a rally here at Port High.

For the first time the Hi-Y club organized a basketball team which competed in the district Hi-Y League and the Northwest District Annual Hi-Y Basketball Tournament.

After a year's elapse, the Port Allegany High School Boys' Gym Club was reorganized. The club, composed of thirteen members who excel in gym activities, was able to meet in the gym only semi-monthly. Because of this, each member had to work hard to make the most of the few gym practices.

Michael Herger, president of the club and one of Port's outstanding athletes, lead the boys very capably. Under Mike's direction, the members practiced head-stands, pyramids, tricks, flips, and springs on the bars and horse.

The boys, garbed in their bright blue and gold uniforms, made a good appearance at the annual Gym Show. At this gym exhibition, Gordon Meacham and Bill Brown put on a boxing bout, while Donald Jewart and George Nelson wrestled, and other members performed skillfully on the apparatus.

Dear Gym Club Girls of 1941-42:

We hope you will enjoy the Girls' Gym Club as much as we have. Those who are athletically minded will find plenty of things in the Gym Club to suit their tastes for an active life . . . We have all sorts of sports—softball, basketball, shuffleboard, and even football. In both fall and spring, hiking is our favorite activity. Old Baldy often feels the tramp of feet during these seasons . . . We have picnicked at the Community Park, where there is a large field on which to play softball . . . Leather craft and bead work, popular pastimes, have greatly interested us . . . The girls made suits in which we appeared at the Gym Show, the high light of the gymnastic year . . . To pay for these suits, we held candy and popcorn sales.

We do hope you have as much fun in your club as we have had in ours.

Sincerely,

Girls' Gym Club of 1940-41

Early in the fall, Coach Maglisceau issued the call for the first football practice and a group of forty boys responded. The Gators opened the season with a heart-breaking game against Emporium. The game was a deadlock until, in the last three minutes, Emporium completed a pass and a double lateral for a 7-0 victory.

On Smethport's traditionally wet field, Port was barely able to tie a seven point lead. In the Otto game, Port was not only defeated by the score of 21-6, but Captain Redington suffered a broken collarbone which kept him off the gridiron for the rest of the season. In the Coudersport game, Port trailed 13-7 for two quarters, but a touchdown by Herger and a drop kick by Larson in the last three minutes gave the boys a 14-13 victory.

Larson's sixty yard punt, resulting in a safety for Port, and Herger's forty yard touchdown run through tackle gave the Gators an 8-7 lead over Sheffield. Larson's pass interception and Herger's end runs accounted for the 26-19 victory over the Bradford J. V.'s in a touchdown studded game.

A touchdown by Herger set the pace for the return game with Coudersport. Healy, charging across the line, chalked up another six points for a 12-0 victory. The Gators cleared up any doubts about their superiority over Smethport in the final game of the season. Although Smethport was on the defensive most of the game, Herger's and Healy's registering the only two scores of the game gave Port a 12-0 victory.

With visions of victories, the Gators opened a disappointing season by a well matched game with Shinglehouse. In the last quarter, Port was gradually left behind until the final whistle set the score at 20-34.

The team's only victory was scored against Austin. In the first half, the Gators gained a big lead, and although Austin scored heavily in the last half, the game ended with a 31-28 victory for Port.

Smethport's 41-15 point victory started for Port a series of overwhelming defeats including Otto Township, 42-19, Coudersport, 42-17, and a 36-15 defeat in a return game with Shinglehouse. At Ludlow, the Gators found their range and dropped in enough baskets for a small lead, but Ludlow's deadly five turned Port's near victory into a 49-34 defeat.

The Gators suffered a 68-15 defeat in their return game with Coudersport, but they caught their second wind in time to give Eldred a close fight. The game was tit for tat in the first half, but a small Eldred lead in the third quarter proved the turning point of the game, which ended in a 29-20 victory for Eldred.

Port's chances for victories was squelched by the resignation of Redington, Johnston, and Healy, and the team was left with no experienced guards. Although the boys started each game with the will to win, they were defeated in return games by Mt. Jewett, 88-10, Smethport, 32-18, Austin, 39-23, and Otto Township, 35-19.

Because of Pfeil's and Baker's sickness, the Gators had left only Abbey and Tulley to furnish the team's backbone for the remaining games, which were lost to Ludlow by a score of 66-32, Eldred 16-12, and Mt. Jewett, 83-19.

Girls' Basketball

Coach

Mrs. Caffo

The inspired senior girls' basketball sextet, with their captain, Phyllis Lyons at the helm, notched up their first victory when they downed the juniors, 37-8, in the opening game of the season. The senior basketeers next conquered the sophomores, 25-8. With full steam ahead, the fast scoring seniors sank the ninth grade girls' squad, 33-4, to win the first interclass league tilt.

In the second half of the season the fighting senior sextet went on a scoring rampage to down the juniors 35-10. Failing to click in the first half of the second senior-sophomore combat, the untiring seniors boomeranged back in the third and fourth periods to snatch a 21-15 victory. In the concluding game the seasoned veterans copped the championship title by defeating the freshman, 35-0.

The champs most vigorous opposition was furnished by the hard-driving sophomores, who defeated the juniors, 33-19 and 26-16.

The keenest basket shooters were Eloise Guncheon, chalking up one hundred forty one points, and Phyllis Lyons, scoring sixty nine points. The captains of the underdogs were: junior, Betty Benson, sophs, Doris Richner, and ninth grade, Betty Sawyer.

Battling with the Emporium senior squad on the Emporium court, the Port squad eked out a last minute tie, 18-18. Trailing at the end of the second frame the Port juniors staged a comeback and nosed out the Emporium juniors, 18-16.

The six outstanding senior players, who attended the Otto Basketball Play Day, March 7, when Captain Phyllis Lyons, Eloise Guncheon, Beatrice Lehman, Ruth Anderson, Jane Coneys, and Margaret Olson.

More than fifty girls played hockey during the 1940 season. In the first class game the seniors defeated the juniors by a large score of 9-0.

In the following battles the fast-moving seniors, charging with merciless, whacking strokes, squelched the "sophs," 5 to 0 and the freshmen, 8-0.

The successful hockey season was climaxed by the hockey playday held at Port High on October 16. Players from Otto Township, Emporium, and Port Allegany participated in the hockey contests. On this same day a combination team of Port girls triumphed over the fighting eleven from Emporium by a 3-0 score.

Hockey high scorer was Phyllis Lyons, who made seventeen goals; Eloise Guncheon ranked second with seven points. Other outstanding players of the season in both offensive and defensive play were R. Anderson, G. Kester, McMahon, Boudon, Becker, Thoren, and H. Shields.

Dear Diary

September

- 4 Hi-Ho—School days again. No one seems too unhappy. Of course, the seniors assume a superior air.
- 6 First assembly—Students voted in favor of Spanish I instead of French I. Fifteen students are now Senors and Senioritas.
- 10 The baby class is still all mixed up. Signe Anderson and Bernadine Thrash waited in the wrong room fifteen minutes for the rest of the students to come to Business Class.
- 13 Don Kanally elected president of senior class. Like President Roosevelt, this is his third term.
- 28 At beginning of second half of the football game with Otto, "Sleepy" Redington suffered a broken collar bone. We're pulling for you, "Sleepy."

October

- 5 During last few seconds of football game with Coudersport a drop kick by Ray Larson saved the day. Final score 13-12, our favor.
- 13 After a rather severe initiation, the sophomores are now officially (by proclamation of the seniors) members of P. A. H. S.
- 26 Run, little man, run, and Mike Herger ran 60 and 80 yards respectively for touchdowns during the football game with the Bradford J. V.'s . . . Victory for us, 26-19. Talk about your misers, seven people who wouldn't spend a dime for the game organized a German Band and gallantly paraded the field!

November

- 11 For the finale of the football season Port played Smethport and chalked up another victory, 12-0. Jim Healy broke through the line on a fake spin and ran 50 yards for a touchdown.
- 18 Press Club spends money—Buys cartoons for the "Bugle"! More novelties, better paper.
- 21-22 "What a Life"—Yes, isn't it? Well, anyway that's the name of the senior play that was presented last night and tonight. School life with Henry Aldrich certainly corresponds with the action in our own school.
- 27 Whee—vacation and eats. Of course it's the same old thing: Turkey, on the Puritan's Thanksgiving Day.

December

- 5 The Kitchenn Inn was the setting for the annual football banquet. Boys disappointed because trophy for Coach did not arrive in time.
Those long legs which belong to Clarence Tulley missed two steps today and he went sailing down the stairs!
- 16 Wonders will never cease! Marjorie Stoops actually had her Spanish done today!
- 21 Another breathing spell—Christmas vacation! Single sessions and much excitement among students. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

January

- 6 Here we are again after a full two weeks' vacation!
- 9-10 A-Ka-Choo—Forty four students and four teachers absent. Reason—Bit by "flu bug."
- 23-24 Mid term exams . . . what lapse of memory and acquired headaches. Six seniors agree to enter "Quiz" program over station WHDL. More worries!
- 27 French students received the classic "Les Miserables" (meaning Unfortunate Ones, and they are).

February

- 5 Senior English test on Romantic period—Mrs. Glesk received some weird tales.
- 7 A lifesaver—much needed tablets and pencils distributed.

Dear Diary

February

- 11 The "Quiz Kids" from P. A. H. S. defeated Bolivar High School by one point in the contest at Olean today. Jack Carlson answered most questions for Port.
- 22 Jacque Boudon bet Coach a chocolate cake that President Roosevelt introduced the Lend-Lease Bill. She lost and paid up.
- 27 Hurrah! The Press Club broke all past records and had a full page "Bugle"

March

- 4 Betty McMahon received a plane paper and on the top was written "Betty McMahon, not all here." Reason: she had forgotten to write her name and had skipped two problems.
- 7 Basketball playday for girls at Otto. Port represented by six seniors.
- 15 Because Economics II had a lower first semester average than Economics I, the losers paid off with a spaghetti supper at the Home Ec Building—Later the seniors sponsored a dance and made $25.
- 17 Port celebrates St. Patrick's Day with green socks, shirts, hair-ribbons, and what have you.
- 21 Auditorium crowded and people turned away for operetta, "The Belle of Bagdad," in which over half of Port High took part.
- 26 Seniors signed their names as they wanted them on the piece of paper that means—"You're through."—Diplomas.
- 28 Mr. Hardy announced the nine new members of the National Honor Society—Congratulations, you brain-storms.
- 31 Seniors' pictures come. Can't get them until they're paid for. Everybody says, "I'm broke."

April

- 1 New books for the library—"April Fool," says Miss Rumsey, "You can't have one today—not until Friday."
- 3 "Tiger Lily" staff meeting. Pep, advertisements, and subscriptions needed. A speedy recovery to Mabel Bashline, who broke her ankle today!
- 4 Two shows today—Style show in chapel with that versatile Dek Kanally as Lew Lehr. Gym Show tonight—theme—America Progresses.
- 10 Single session and a short vacation. Easter with all its spring bonnets and jelly beans.
- 15 Not sickness, but fishing season that kept so many boys from school today.
- 20 Quiz team wins from Bradford.
- 25 Work for the sophomores but a treat for the seniors—The Sophomore Hop.

May

- 2 Port day at Smethport—Three seniors take scholarship exams—Musical festival with some of our band members participating.
- 9 A gala night—the big affair of the year—Junior Prom—Thanks to the juniors for a wonderful time.
- 10 Members of Press Club attend a Press Conference at St. Bonaventure's College.
- 22-23 Seniors take final exams—"Absolute knowledge, we have none."

June

- 2-3 Underclassmen take exams and hope for the best—Class night,—the last Shin-dig of the year.
- 4 The long desired night arrives—Commencement with the theme National Defense. Principal speaker, Dr. Harry W. Rockwell, President of Buffalo State Teachers' College. Student speakers, Donald Kanally, Robert Pfeil, and Margaret Olson.
- 6 Back for report cards and one last lark at school. Sweet School, Goodbye!

Yuletide Epidemic

When Santa comes down the chimney on Christmas Eve, he finds John Cheer's home gay and festive in the holiday mood. A Christmas tree stands, be-hung with tinsels and fragile bits of glittering beauty. Ex-quisitely - wrapped gifts peep from beneath its regal boughs.

In Scrooge's home, not bit of this is visible. There are no gifts. Only a muttered "bah! hum-bug!" in response to the musical wish, "Merry Christmas."

There is no room today for Scrooge-like persons. No room for the disinterested man who refuses to become a party in the season's gaiety, and no room for him who half-heartedly at-tempts to become a part, ex-changing gifts only because it is traditional. He is one of those rare beings who is im-mune to the contagious Yuletide spirit.

It is an epidemic which can-nto be controlled, this "Good-cheeria." It spreads like wild-fire, invading and infecting the hearts of all; young and old. It's first sign is the appearance of mysterious packages in bureau drawers and on top shelves in closets; gifts brought to make someone happy. Smiles prevall among its victims and "Merry Christmas" issues from the lips of parson and cobbler, debutante and waitress, veteran and kindergarten child.

Are you a modern Scrooge, or a John Cheer, victim of "Good-cheeria"?

CLASSROOM CHATTER

"Hey! little girl! Stop talking or stay one hour after school tonight," said Coach Maglisceau to some girl talking in the back of the room. The girl continued talking. "Little girl back there, come in at four o'clock," scolded Coach. Miss Colcord, the lit-tle girl, slowly got up and walked away. Was Coach's face red? Ask him.

HI-Y TEAM PLAYS AT

BRADFORD YMCA

Last Saturday, March 8, the local Hi-Y basketball team journeyed to Bradford where they took part in the North-western Hi-Y District Basket-ball tournament on the YMCA court.

The game with Otto Town-ship was close and exciting un-til the last few minutes of play. Then Port streaked ahead by the accurate shooting of "Pee-wee" Johnston. The Hi-Y Ga-tors finally won 17-9.

DEAR SNOOKUMS

Port Allegany High S.
February 24, 1941

Dear Snookums:

This here bein' tha first let-ter I've ever wrote to ya, I want to tell ya this here is one swell school.

Why! here we're so durn busy that they even have oppertunity periods for the ones which ain't got their work done. If you ain't got time to do it they say "Come in at 4 o'clock." Naow ain't that right nice of them?

If this here ain't the durndest place for couples to break up and come together again I don't know what it is. They are al-ways changin' aroun'!

Well seein' the Spring is just aroun' the corner I feel that old fevur comin' on. I'll close now seein' I ain't got no more to write.

All my love
Aloysius

CONTESTANTS FOR

DISTRICT BAND CHOSEN

District band will be held this year in Wellsboro on March 27, 28, and 29. To represent P. A. H. S. are the following: Mar-guerite Myers, E. flat alto clari-net, Eloise Guncheon, first trombone, Joan Becker, first clarinet, and "Pete" Keith, first cornet.

Much of the time at Wells-boro will be spent at band prac-tice, rehearsing for the concert which will take place on Satur-day night, March 29. The band is composed of members from various bands of the surround-ing towns. Later in the year an All State Band will be held at Lock Haven.

BIOLOGY CLUB SENIORS

TALLY HIGHEST

The Biology club started with a bang when forty-two enthusi-astic nature lovers embarked on their first field trip of the sea-son. Not an ordinary field trip, this, but a hot contest between the confident sophomores, dog-matical juniors, and scientific-minded seniors.

The final score was seniors 27 specimens, sophomores 26, and finally the juniors with 25.

QUIZ TEAM VICTORIOUS

The Port Allegany High School Quiz Team, composed of Phyllis Lyons, Margaret Olson, Jacque Boudon, Bob Pfeil, Jack Carlson, Bob Buford, and alter-nates Donald Kanally and Jane Coneys, defeated the Bolivar High School by one point in an exciting battle Sunday, Febru-ary 16, at the Olean House ball-room.

Competing with Bradford in the quarterfinals on April 27, the Port Quiz Team came out on top by nine points.

The semi-finals, with Port Al-legany versus Allegany, was a close fight, Port winning by a score of 22 to 20.

The Port Quiz Team will en-ter the finals Sunday, May 25.

Chatter

Mr. Hockenberry: "Gas is a vapor. We can neither see nor feel it."

Jack Carlson: "But man, can we step on it."

"A woman," says a news item, "is a person who can hurry through a drug store aisle fifteen inches wide without brushing against the piled-up tinware and then drive home and knock off one of the doors of a twelve foot garage."

Mrs. Jones: "Why are you suddenly taking French lessons?"

Mrs. Smith: "Well, we've adopted a French baby and we're eager to know what he says when he begins to talk."

"Where is my wandering boy tonight, I wonder near or far?"

An anxious parent asks, and adds:
"And also, where's the car?"

Barber: "Your hair needs cutting badly, sir."

Mike Herger: "I don't agree with you. It needs cutting nicely this time. You cut it badly the last time I was here."

Evelyn MacFarland: "Dad has promised to pay for our honeymoon."

Tom Knapp: "Fine! Our honeymoon will last forever!"

Walter Johnson: "How did you make out with your school exams?"

Eugene Tulley: "Oh just like Napoleon."

Walter Johnson: "What do you mean?"

Eugene Tulley: "I went down in history."

"I know how to settle this unemployment problem," said the club wag. "If we put all the men in the world on one island, and the women on another, we'd have everybody busy in no time."

"Well, what would they be doing?"

"Why, boat-building."

Donald Meacham: "I hear they've taken the early morning bus off your line. Do you miss it?"

Ralph Wetmore: "Not since they took it off."

Phil Baker: "I suppose you are going to raise potatoes in your garden?"

Bill Brookins: "I was but when I read the directions I found that it would be impossible. They should be planted in hills and my yard is perfectly level."

Lee Baker: "Sorry, old chap, but I shall be using my lawn mower this afternoon, and the roller, and the fork."

Don Jewart: "Oh well, I wonder if I might borrow your golf clubs."

A motorist was helping his extremely fat victim to rise. "Couldn't you have gone around me?" growled the victim.

"Sorry," said the motorist sadly, "I wasn't sure whether I had enough gasoline."

Mr. Jones: "You say you have two daughters—do they live at home with you?"

Mr. Thrash: "No, they're not married yet."

Miss Flesher: "This makes five times I have punished you this week. Now, Lynn, what have you to say?"

Lynn Ostrander: "Well, I'm glad it's Friday."

"Are you still engaged to that homely Smith girl?"

"No, I'm not."

"Good for you, old man. How did you ever get out of it?"

"Married her."

Harry: "So he has an idea that he thinks will make him rich?"

Gordon: "Yes, he's going to try to introduce Chinese checkers in China."

The Joys of Making a "Tiger Lily"

Getting out this "Tiger Lily" is no picnic.
If we print jokes, people say we are silly;
If we don't they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other books
We are too lazy to write them ourselves;
If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.
If we stick close to the job all day
We ought to be out hunting up news.
If we do get out and try to hustle
We ought to be on the job at home.
If we don't print contributions
We don't appreciate true genius;
If we do print them,
The "Tiger Lily" is filled with junk.
If we make a change in the other fellow's write-up,
We are too critical.
If we don't, we are asleep.
Now, like as not, some guy will say
We swiped this from some other book.
WE DID!

YOU CAN'T GROW A NEW PAIR OF EYES!

So read this one-minute story and learn to protect eyesight.

The eyes of primitive man were used mostly for seeing great distances with the clear light of day providing him hundreds of times the light that exists indoors.

Modern living has revised the conditions under which our eyes developed - moving our world indoors and creating close visual tasks to be done under artificial light. Inadequate and glaring light, provided for these tasks in many homes, schools, and offices, creates eyestrain and develops defective vision.

Save your vision - Protect your eyes with good lighting. Strain Free eyes make you look better - feel better - work and play and study with greater ease, comfort, and efficiency.
